

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

OUTSCHOOLED: Design to Revolutionize Outdoor Learning is organized and administered by Bernheim Arboretum and Research Forest (“Bernheim”). In submitting a proposal to this competition, participants agree with the following terms and conditions.

The goal of this outdoor learning space initiative is to develop a set of design prototypes that schools anywhere can adapt for use at their specific sites with the support of their students, families, and neighbors. All competition submissions shall be vetted by Bernheim’s in-house panel for eligibility and adherence with the design criteria in the competition brief. All design solutions adhering to the listed design criteria will be published in a digital slideshow and, foreseeably, a design guide to be published later. Decisions judging submissions will be at the discretion of Bernheim’s panel and all decisions are final.

Anyone 16 or older is eligible to submit a proposal regardless of physical location or professional qualification.

By submitting an entry to this competition, the designer/design team represents that all work submitted is the original work of the designer/design team. Bernheim shall not be responsible for any misrepresentations, disputes, or other concerns associated with the authorship of the submissions. Bernheim reserves the right to publish and/or reproduce images and text from any and all submissions, with credit to the creator(s). By submitting an entry to this competition, entrants transfer unlimited use for publication, exhibition and electronic posting of all entries to Bernheim, and entrants acknowledge and accept that all aspects of any submission may be used for publicity purposes. Bernheim shall not be responsible for any technical or other conditions that prevent the receipt or evaluation of a competition submission, or any part thereof. Entrants agree to release, indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Bernheim and its respective directors, officers, employees, and agents from and against all claims, liens, demands, causes of action and suits and all losses, damages and expenses, including without limitation reasonable attorneys’ fees, in any manner connected with entrants’ participation in the competition. Upon submitting an entry to this competition, all entrants agree to waive any and all claims against Bernheim in connection with the competition. Bernheim shall not be responsible for evaluating the soundness of any entry for construction or safety purposes, including without limitation with respect to any public health requirements.
